

Andre Mouton

Address Department of Economics
Wake Forest University
1834 Wake Forest Rd.
Winston-Salem, NC 27104

Phone (504) 858-5025
Email moutona@wfu.edu
Website [sites.google.com/view/
andremouton](https://sites.google.com/view/andremouton)

Employment

July 2022 – Assistant Professor, Wake Forest University

Education

Ph.D. Economics, Carnegie Mellon University, 2022
Dissertation: “Structural effects of technical change on labor markets”
Committee: Ali Shourideh, Laurence Ales, Brian Kovak, Rebecca Lessem

M.A. Economics, Carnegie Mellon University, 2018

B.A. Economics, CUNY Baruch College, 2016
Summa cum laude, excellence award (mathematics, economics)

Research interests

Macroeconomics, Labor Economics, Industrial Organization

Working papers

“Skill-Bias, Firm-Bias, and Wage Inequality” (Job Market Paper)

“What Drives West German Wage Sorting?”

Work in progress

“The Adoption and Utilization of Technology” (with Laurence Ales)

“Task Automation and Job Polarization”

Teaching experience

CMU	Microeconomic Principles, 2020 (undergraduate)
	Macroeconomic Principles, 2018-19, 2021 (undergraduate, TA)
	Global Economics, 2020-21 (graduate, TA)
	Future of Work, 2020-21 (graduate, TA)
	Microeconomic Principles, 2019-20 (undergraduate, TA)
	Economics and Data Science, 2019 (undergraduate, TA)
	Macroeconomics 1, 2017 (PhD, TA)
Continuing ed.	Future Faculty Program, Eberly Center, 2021

Honors, fellowships, and awards

2016	William Larimer Mellon Fellowship, CMU
2016	Arnold Picker excellence award for mathematics, CUNY Baruch
2016	Excellence award for economics, CUNY Baruch

Professional activities

Presentations	2022	UH-Clear Lake, Wake Forest, Analysis Group
	2021	ECINEQ
Refereeing		Macroeconomic Dynamics

Miscellaneous

Citizenship	United States
Languages	English (native), French (proficient)
Software	R, Python, Stata